

Fall Of Naples Appears Imminent

FOUR SERIOUSLY HURT IN CRASH TUESDAY NIGHT

Five men were injured, four of them seriously, Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock in a two-car collision 2½ miles east of town on the Lincoln highway.

Sergeant James Barnes, 29, Camp Butner, North Carolina, home address South Washington street, suffering from an amputation of the left arm, extensive injuries of the left side of the face, loss of left eye and fracture of the nose. He was unconscious when brought to the Warner hospital, Tuesday evening. His condition is said to be "satisfactory for the present."

Harry Crouse, 43, Gettysburg R. 2, suffering from mild shock, contusions of the left side of the forehead, minor lacerations of the face, contusions of the left side of the chest, possible fracture of three ribs, contusions of the abdomen, contusion of the right knee, dislocation of the left index finger and minor lacerations of the left hand. His condition is listed as "satisfactory."

Raymond Stottler, 35, 76 Steinwehr avenue, cerebral concussion and lacerations of the scalp. He was reported "improved" at 1 o'clock.

Soldier Was Driving
All four are patients at the Warner hospital, with Stottler and Barnes having been taken there Tuesday night by a passing motorist. The others were taken to the hospital in the county ambulance.

Edmund E. Power, Baltimore street, suffered minor injuries and was treated by a local doctor.

Sergeant Barnes, who is home on a furlough, was named by Private George Ackerson, of the local state police, who is investigating, as having been the driver of the one car, with Stottler as a passenger. The other men were in a car driven by Crouse and were returning from York where they are employed.

Private Ackerson, who is continuing his investigation, said that Barnes was "believed to have been drinking" prior to the accident and (Please Turn to Page 2)

COUNTYMAN ACQUITTED
Garland Baker, Gettysburg R. D., was found not guilty of a serious charge late Monday afternoon after a Franklin county jury at Chambersburg had deliberated three hours on the matter. The trial was the first to come before the Franklin county court at the present term.

No Excuses At Salerno
Over the Associated Press teletype wires this morning was flashed an urgent appeal in the interest of the Third War Bond campaign. It was directed to the editors of all newspapers in the country with the request that it be published on the first page of each paper. The appeal follows:

"The figures on the Third War Bond drive are good. But this drive is an absolute failure for one who has not bought extra war bonds. The Third War Loan is as personal to us as a Nazi or Japanese bullet is to our son and neighbor's son.

"What excuse can we possibly give to one of General Mark Clark's Fifth Army boys in Italy for not helping him by buying an extra War Bond or two today. Will it stand up? You say you haven't the money or you haven't been asked. If we are spending our time thinking up excuses for not buying extra bonds, we don't deserve the sacrifices being made for us on the bloody beaches of Europe and the Pacific. Salerno was strewn with American bodies. Not excuses."

Sailor To Tell Of War Service At Meeting Here

A general invitation to the public to attend tonight's brief open air meeting in center square at nine o'clock was issued today by Edmund W. Thomas, chairman of the county War Finance Committee.

"Gunner's Mate Landon Hower, a veteran of four major naval engagements in the South Pacific, will deliver his last address in Gettysburg tonight and it will be a splendid tribute to this young man if a large audience is present. It will also be the last large public meeting in connection with the Third War Bond drive."

The Blue Star Brigade bond booth in the Hotel Gettysburg will remain open this evening after the speaking program.

ENDS WAR BOND TOUR IN SQUARE THIS EVENING

Gunner's Mate Landon Hower, veteran of four major naval engagements in the South Pacific, completes his tour of service in the interest of the Third War Bond drive in Adams county with an address at an open air meeting in center square tonight at nine o'clock. He reports for further assignment in Philadelphia Thursday morning.

Since coming to Gettysburg Monday morning Hower has delivered a number of addresses at open air meetings throughout the county. Tuesday evening he spoke at New Oxford, Abbotstown and East Berlin. The meeting scheduled for McSherrytown was cancelled because of the late hour caused when the war bond caravan was delayed at previous meetings.

Speaks At High School
Tonight Hower will speak at a meeting in Littlestown at 7 o'clock, at Fairfield at 8 o'clock and in center square, Gettysburg, at 9 o'clock. This morning he addressed the assembly at the high school, employees at the Blue Ridge Rubber company, Windsor Shoe company, Keystone Cabinet company and the Littlestown Hardware and Foundry company in Littlestown, between noon and 1:30 o'clock and was scheduled at the Penn Tile works, Asper at 4 o'clock.

Tuesday he addressed workers at the Colonial Casting company, Cannon Shoe company, Standard Garment company, New Oxford; Victor Products company, Gettysburg, and Foth and Gulden, Aspers.

ARRIVES IN ENGLAND

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Witherow, Gettysburg R. D., have received word of the safe arrival in England of their son, Cpl. John R. Witherow.

BOND DRIVE NEARING TWO MILLION MARK

Surging toward their objective of $2,134,100 in the Third War Bond campaign Adams countyans added $49,418.75 to the swelling bond purchases on Tuesday to boost the grand total to $1,701,118.75.

The objective is now to sell $432,981.25 worth of war bonds in the next three days.

The upsurge was given impetus by a new report from state headquarters late Tuesday afternoon announcing Adams county's total as of that hour at $1,649,200. Again it was explained that additional bond buying outside the county, but credited to this county, accounted for the increase.

Workers Hopeful

To go "over the top" Adams countyans will have to buy bonds at the rate of approximately $145,000 a day for the next three days.

"It is not an impossible task. We did it before and we can do it again, if everyone will do his or her share of bond buying," said Edmund W. Thomas, county chairman.

"The splendid response we have had in the past three days has lent encouragement to the volunteer workers and they are hopeful that we will reach our goal. I personally feel confident that our good citizens will come through again, just as they have done so splendidly in the past two drives when we exceeded our quota in each instance," Mr. Thomas added.

State Is Short

Philadelphia, Sept. 29 (AP)—With four days to go in its Third War Loan drive, Pennsylvania was still $193,170,000 short of its $1,070,000,000 goal today.

Allegheny county, including Pittsburgh, went over the top yesterday, exceeding its quota by $14,726,500, but Philadelphia had accounted for only 88.4 per cent of its $490,048,000 goal.

Pennsylvania as a whole had reached 82 per cent of its objective this morning.

Major Miller Is Sent To Camp Lee

Major Edgar A. Miller, Baltimore street, of the Army Medical Corps, who has been stationed at the new Station hospital, New Cumberland Army Reception Center, has been transferred to Camp Lee, Va., where he will be attached to the newly activated 397th Station hospital.

Dr. Miller is a veteran of the first World War, having received his commission as a first lieutenant in 1917. In September of that year he went overseas and was attached to the Royal Army Medical Corps. He served in France with the 42nd Division, B. E. F., as Battalion Medical Officer, and later with the Fifth Division, serving until May of 1919. His major engagements were the Somme defensive and Somme offensive, during which he was promoted to captain. He served with the army of occupation following the armistice, being with the Fifth Division in Brussels, Belgium.

Major Miller was called back to active duty as a major in March, 1941, reporting to Indiantown Gap. He was on fall maneuvers at Fort Bragg in 1941, then went to the Station hospital, Fort Meade, Md., where he remained until going to New Cumberland in January, 1942.

Music Classes To Begin Here Monday

Richard B. Shade, Lewistown, who recently accepted the position of supervisor of music in the local public schools, will begin his duties here Monday, L. C. Keefe, superintendent of schools, announced today.

Mr. Shade's family will move here November 1.

The public school pupils here have been without formal music instruction since the opening of school, following the resignation of Miss Dorothy M. Brindle, who became music instructor in a Hagerstown Junior high school.

The new music instructor taught in the Derry township schools near Lewistown for the last six years and since 1934 had conducted the Lewistown Symphony orchestra.

Corporal Fred T. Taylor has arrived safely in England according to word received by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Taylor, Biglerville R. 1.

Take No Action On Bond Purchase

Adams county's Commissioners took no action at their regular weekly meeting today, on the request of the County War Finance committee that they purchase a large block of war bonds with funds they have in several accounts.

The request of the War Finance committee had been made to one of the Commissioners this week and it was said that the Commissioners would consider the suggestion at today's session.

It was stated at the Commissioners' office that no action had been taken and that two of the three officials left shortly after noon for Harrisburg.

Some time ago the Commissioners announced that they planned to purchase $16,000 worth of war bonds. Later they rescinded this action stating that the interest to be derived from the war bonds was not as much as they are deriving under the present investment.

Here And There News Collected At Random

"DIMS FOR INVASION"
Instead of the public paying tribute to newspaper carriers on National Newspaper Boy Day, Saturday, October 2, carrier boys and girls of The Gettysburg Times will plunge into the Third War Bond drive and devote the entire day to the selling of war bonds and stamps.

It will be "Dimes For Invasion" Day in Gettysburg and Adams county... the national slogan for the annual observance, but the day will not be devoted to the selling of only ten cent stamps. The carriers will sell all denominations of war stamps and bonds.

What these youngsters have in mind is to persuade the hundreds of nice people who buy war stamps and have one or more unfiled books to buy sufficient stamps to fill at least one book and exchange it for a bond before midnight Saturday, the closing hour of the Third War Bond campaign.

American newspaper boys were among the first to feel the impact of the Japanese sneak attack. True to their tradition of enterprise and initiative, they translated the urge to do something to help their country into the magnificent war stamp program which has won the praise of President Roosevelt, Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau and members of the Congress and the Senate.

As the going got tough for our fighting men and as the tragedy of Bataan and Corregidor hit us right in the face, newspaper boys intensified their stamp and bond sales.

The Treasury department set up a series of awards. The emblems are today coveted by newspaper carriers with the same fervor as the DSC or Navy Cross or Purple Heart is coveted (Please Turn to Page 5)

Marshall—First Globalissimo?

(By The Associated Press)
General George Catlett Marshall, architect of the first big American Army ever built in peace time, is now being talked of as the man who may assume the unprecedented position of globalissimo for Anglo-American fighting forces.

Never in military history has one man shouldered such a job—a job that calls for co-ordinating the movement of millions of men and their material by land, sea and air all over the globe.

Pershing's Man
The tall, sandy-haired chief of staff emerged from World War I known among his colleagues as "Pershing's man," who went to France as a captain and remained to map the decisive Meuse-Argonne offensive.

General Pershing had had his eye on this freckle-faced fellow, for Marshall had spoken right up to the general once and told him a training maneuver flopped because the men had not been given enough time to prepare.

Pershing said Marshall had performed a "stupendous task" in the Meuse-Argonne drive, and he made him his aide-de-camp, a post the future chief of staff held until 1924.

Soldier Ambition
Born Dec. 31, 1880, at Uniontown, Pa., Marshall had been bent on a career as a soldier from boyhood.

URGES POSTWAR PLANNING UNIT IN GETTYSBURG

The need for a post-war planning committee for this community was stressed by Ralph W. Cummings, special industrial representative for the state Department of Commerce, in an address Tuesday evening before the first fall dinner meeting of the local Chamber of Commerce at the Hotel Gettysburg.

Urging the formation of a committee representing all of the agencies and organizations interested in the welfare of this community, Mr. Cummings emphasized the fact that while the state offers cooperation and assistance, the solution of local post-war problems must be solved by this community itself.

Lists Gettysburg's Assets
Pointing out that post-war jobs must be found for at least 3,000 men and women in Adams county—representing a potential annual wage income of at least $3,000,000—the speaker suggested a "human resources" survey and a complete community study.

Early in his remarks, Mr. Cummings outlined the seven-point Pennsylvania Production Plan, developed four years ago, which the Department of Commerce is seeking to carry out. That plan provides for nation-wide publicity, progressive regional pooling of local efforts to meet war and post-war needs; scientific and economic research; maintaining a balance between public works and private enterprise; stimulation of types of industries now deficient in the state, and the development of handicrafts for persons unfit to operate machines.

Summing up Gettysburg's assets, Mr. Cummings listed four principal sources of income—agriculture, manufacturing, travel and the college. "A very satisfactory" business situation now obtains generally here, he observed, particularly in the retail trades.

Jobs Chief Concern After War
In planning for the future, the Chamber members were told, local enterprise and initiative must be exercised or the only other alternative (Please Turn to Page 5)

Moose Women Hear Mrs. Saby

Mrs. R. S. Saby, Red Cross canteen committee chairman for Adams county, addressed the members of the Women of the Moose of Gettysburg on the Red Cross Blood Donor service at the Auxiliary's regular meeting, Tuesday evening. Mrs. Enola Evans, senior regent, presided.

Mrs. Mary Miller gave a reading, "The Young Man Waited," and Mrs. Ada Smith presented "Kin Folks" as a reading. The group sang patriotic songs.

Reporting "great success" in the sale of stamps and bonds at the booths operated by the Auxiliary at the Moose home and in Murphy's store, the members announced that both will be continued beyond the current Third War Loan drive.

He began it auspiciously in 1901, and was graduated from Virginia Military Institute with the honor position of first captain of his class.

The Army sent him to the Philippines. Hardly had he arrived before he was put in command of extensive troop maneuvers. The officer who planned them had been taken ill. Marshall took over without advance notice.

His handling of the troops so tickled General Johnson Haygood that he proposed that Marshall be promoted forthwith from lieutenant to brigadier general.

Marshall, instead had to wait 35 years to attain that rank in 1936. He was promoted to major in 1920, lieutenant colonel in 1923, and colonel in 1933.

President Roosevelt skipped past 34 other higher ranking generals to appoint him as chief of staff in 1939 and to raise his rank to major-general.

Known in the army as a strict disciplinarian, Marshall at the same time is affable, and a remarkably good story teller, say his colleagues. The general turns to horseback riding, tennis and canoeing for recreation. In days of peace, General Marshall was up and to work early so that he could get away from his office sooner.

"Nobody," he says, "ever had an original idea after 3 o'clock."

Five More Join Blue Star Brigade

Five more members have joined the Blue Star Brigade to help sell bonds in the Third War Loan drive.

The new members are: Mrs. L. L. Whittinghill for Thomas Edward Whittinghill, 3rd class pharmacist's mate, son. Mrs. Ethel E. Crist for Jack Crist, cousin, killed in action. Mrs. John B. Zinn for Lt. John B. Zinn, Jr., son. Mrs. Henry Thomas for Pvt. Francis B. Thomas, son. Delta Gamma Alumnae association for Ensign Miriam A. Waltemyer.

NO EXTRA FIRE FIGHTING UNIT PLANNED HERE

A request from the State Defense council that all Pennsylvania counties form fire-fighting units even though they may not have received any federal-allocated equipment was being considered today by the Adams county Council of Defense—but defense heads here said no special organization would be established for the fire guard service requested by the state.

In a joint statement Judge W. C. Sheely, chairman of the council of defense and James B. Auman, fire company representative for the county defense group, said:

"The plans set up for the state are based on state-wide needs rather than for particular localities. Few communities have the fire protection given in Adams county and as a result additional fire units are needed. We have 2,500 trained firemen in the county and as a result no new organization seems necessary. If necessary we will establish the fire guard organization within the present fire companies by allocating certain areas in which individual firemen will act as guards."

Plan Local Test

The fire guard service planned by the state is "a new branch of the civilian defense corps, responsible for combating small fires during an air raid or other enemy attack," according to an Associated Press report. "The organization was created earlier this month to replace the group known as fire watchers."

Only two communities in the county are scheduled to obtain Federal-allocated equipment, Gettysburg and McSherrytown, with two pieces of the equipment already located here. Plans are being formulated for the local council of defense to turn over the trailer pumpers to the (Please Turn to Page 2)

Nazis Driven From Last Big Mountain Base

By NOLAND NORGAARD

Allied Headquarters in North Africa, Sept. 29 (AP)—The Fifth Army has driven the Germans from their last mountain positions above Salerno and is pursuing the enemy on the plain within 15 miles of Naples, the fall of which appeared today to be imminent.

The Germans, routed out of the mountain strongholds in six days of heavy fighting, were in general retreat, leaving the Allies in complete possession of the Sorrento Peninsula, which separates the Bay of Naples from the Gulf of Salerno.

American and British troops of Lt. Gen. Mark W. Clark began the final attack on the enemy's extremely strong mountain positions at dawn yesterday and by noon had captured Nocera, vital road center at the beginning of the coastal plain leading to Naples.

Allies Take Important Naval Base

Castellammare, important Naval base on the southern shore of the Bay of Naples, also fell quickly into Allied hands as the Germans withdrew in a flight that may not cease until they reach the River Ventura line, well north of Naples.

(In London, the authoritative British Press association said it had learned that Fifth Army forces had entered historic Pompeii at the foot of smoking Vesuvius and only 13 airline miles from the heart of Naples.)

The breakthrough on the extreme western end of the front extending across Italy from coast to coast was accompanied by a general advance on the entire Fifth and Eighth Army line.

American troops on the Fifth Army's right flank smashed their way six miles northward against crumbling enemy opposition and were within seven miles of Avellino, road and rail junction which is the key to inland communications east of Naples.

Receives Medical Discharge From WAC

Miss Elizabeth Scott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Scott, Gettysburg R. D., has been given an honorable medical discharge from the Woman's Army Corps.

Shortly after reporting for training at Fort Oglethorpe, Ga., Miss Scott became ill and spent several weeks in the hospital.

Wipe Out Salient

The capture of Avellino would constitute a threat to any German effort to make a new stand anywhere east or south of Naples.

The British Eighth Army meanwhile wiped out the deep salient on its western flank, previously reported, and established a straight line between San Angelo and Mafli, while along the Adriatic Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's forces stormed northward from Margherita di Savoia and occupied the town of Zappanetta on the Gulf of Manfredonia, due east of the great Foglia air base.

British troops on the extreme southwest end of the Allied front began the final shove against the enemy in the mountain line north and northwest of Salerno and encountered the bitterest kind of fighting at the town of Sala which already had changed hands many times in recent weeks of the furious struggle.

This time Clark's troops seized it for keeps and swept on triumphant. The Germans, realizing that any further attempt to make a stand in that area was futile, began to retreat.

Few Prisoners

Reports from the front emphasized that the enemy's withdrawal was orderly and there was no suggestion that the Allies were taking any large number of prisoners.

The air offensive against troop concentrations and supply lines of the retreating Germans was hampered by bad weather, although some Allied squadrons which carried out offensive patrols encountered a few enemy fighters and shot down one of them.

Fighters and fighter-bombers attacked a train and a small motor transport convoy, the communicate said, while other Allied airmen continued to patrol the battle area. No Allied planes were lost.

On the Adriatic coast the British Eighth Army kept up its hot pursuit of retreating German forces after capturing the big enemy air base at Foggia.

Repairs to the base and its 13 air fields were being rushed in preparation for an all-out air assault on Nazi targets in southern Germany, Italy and the turbulent Balkans.

The last of Field Marshal Albert Kesselring's rearguard was barely ousted from the Incoronato woods and the grain fields of the hot Foggia plains before engineering units arrived to patch the bomb-pocked runways and rehabilitate the shops and hangars.

FOGGIA'S FALL MAJOR VICTORY FOR THE ALLIES

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

Associated Press War Analyst
Capture of Foggia in southern Italy—great communications center and focal point of a baker's dozen up-to-date airdromes—represents one of the major triumphs of the Mediterranean war, for it's the key to vast new fields of Allied endeavor.

Possession of Foggia will permit us to unleash a fresh tornado of bombing and fighting planes. First off, it should greatly expedite the conquest of the Italian peninsula, for it will go far towards breaking the back of German resistance there. An early development should be Nazi evacuation of the hotly contested Naples region.

But our gun-sights can be raised to much more distant horizons. From Foggia we can reach into Germany to vital centers which heretofore have been difficult to bomb. We've destroyed a huge portion of Hitler's industrial structure, and now much of the balance is within our range. The Balkans lie open to the flying fields of Foggia—a matter of utmost importance at this moment when the cockpit of southeastern Europe is squirming to escape Hitler's clutch.

Fascinating Tactics

Italy isn't the only theater to produce sensations, however, for the Russians have broached a new operation which may be a block-buster. That's up on the Leningrad end of their flaming front. Do you remember that night a couple of years ago when Hitler in one of his bombastic speeches defied the United States, dared Britain to invade France and, as a special mark of his prowess, proclaimed that Leningrad "is surrounded and no one will free it again and it will fall into our hands?"

That was the time when this birthplace of the Red revolution was being defended not only by Russian soldiers but by its citizens—men and women, young and old. It was a winter of horror, of violent death and the slow torture of starvation and bitter cold, but still they clung to their city. Somehow the Hitlerian ring was pushed back until Leningrad no longer was isolated, though the invaders have continued to hold their line not far from the southern side of the city.

Well, the Russians now as part of their great offensive against the Nazis are beginning an operation which, it strikes me, is calculated to be the pay-off to Hitler's crime against the city of the Red revolution. I refer to the capture of the strategic city of Smolensk and the continuing drive westward. Please get out your maps while we see what this means, for it's as fascinating a display of tactics as we are likely to encounter.

Finland Seeks Peace

One Red force is headed northward along the Smoensk-Vitebsk railway towards the little Baltic state of Latvia, which is only 200 miles away. Other Russian contingents are pushing southward, in a turning movement against the German line. Now if the Muscovites have the reserve strength to develop this movement, it will cut off the Hitlerites in that whole northern zone which has its apex in Leningrad. It also will place Finland in a most uncomfortable position of refrigerated isolation.

Of course this drive is in its infancy, and predictions therefore are strictly out of order. It may or may not come off. However, it's danger already has been recognized by Berlin, for a little one-line news dispatch from London reports that Hitler the Hangman, Hitler's Gestapo chief, has arrived in Latvia. Hitler rushes where trouble threatens, and a black cloud of it is moving towards Latvia from the east.

And what of Finland? She's feeling very sorry for herself, and wants to get out of the mess she is in as the virtual ally of Hitler. Her premier, Edwin Linkomies, said the other day that she wants to withdraw. She would like peace with Russia on her pre-1939 independence and territorial status. Well, if the present Russian drive is carried through to its finality, Finland will take what Moscow wants to hand her—and "like it."

Butter continues to be scarce, a check on leading stores of the town disclosed today. Most said they were operating on such a narrow margin that they are completely out of butter "from time to time" each week.

BULLETINS

Allied Headquarters in the Southwest Pacific, Sept. 29 (AP)—The bloody battle for Finschhafen roared toward its finish today, with Australian soldiers exacting a heavy toll among the Japanese defenders and the supporting bases of the enemy for 300 miles to the northwest along the New Guinea coast bombed into impotence.

London, Sept. 29 (AP)—Investment of Kremenchug, one of the few remaining escape bridgeheads across the broad Dnieper available to the battered legions of Adolf Hitler in their retreat from the Ukraine, appeared imminent today as Red Army troops pressed a three-pronged drive on the city from the east, south and north.

New Delhi, Sept. 29 (AP)—American and British air units struck again at Japanese supply lines in central Burma yesterday with attacks on rail installations and river transport, headquarters communique announced today.

Washington, Sept. 29 (AP)—A Senate foreign relations subcommittee decided today to pigeon hole the House-approved Fulbright "lasting peace" resolution and to draft its own declaration of post-war foreign policy.

Pittsburgh, Sept. 29 (AP)—A new OPA program now in the final stages of preparation will roll back the cost of living by 2.3 per cent, Milton Rich, chief of the food unit, New York OPA regional office, promised delegates attending the National Industrial Stores Association convention, which closed today.

Washington, Sept. 29 (AP)—War Food Administrator Marvin Jones asked Congress today to extend the life of the Commodity Credit Corporation (CCC) and increase its borrowing power by $500,000,000 so that the government might make and fulfill guarantees to farmers of somewhat higher prices for 1944 crops.

URGES GREATER FRANKNESS IN WAR REPORTS

Pearl Harbor, Sept. 29 (AP)—

Greater frankness in war news presentation today will prevent cynicism and lack of confidence in our leaders later, U. S. Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr. (R-Mass.) said in an exclusive interview after war front visits where "I saw the reaction of our fighting men to habitually optimistic news reports."

He will report to Congress that "our fighting men are mad because of the false optimism of our news."

He noted that censors perhaps overlook the fact that, unlike the last war, the news they censor gets back by radio within 4 hours to the men who make the news, who are wounded and who have fallen comrades.

"Breeds Apathy"

"Our present news censorship as I saw it at the front enrages and disillusiones our fighting men in the truthfulness of their leaders and at home it breeds apathy," Senator Lodge said.

He told of seeing American soldiers befriend Italian and German prisoners but said no such camaraderie exists in the Pacific.

"Our fight with the Japs is a fight to the finish," he said.

"The Japs made it that way. They tortured prisoners, shot down our parachutists, executed our Doolittle fliers in cold blood and our litter bearers are their favorite targets."

Worst Misrepresentations
"These truths of the Japs should be driven home, too,"

Senator Lodge asked the writer (who was a war correspondent in the Aleutians) the reaction of American soldiers to news they received while driving the Japanese from Attu. I told him an official announcement came over the radio that the enemy was defeated, except for mopping up, in the first week whereas actually the main fighting had not commenced and many of our men already had been killed.

"It's that way everywhere," Senator Lodge said.
"Unfortunately, where they are hit hardest and their outfits have had heavy casualties, the news seems the worst misrepresented. When suffering intensely, they will hear a bland radio announcement saying 'the enemy is routed. Our losses are negligible. There is little if any enemy resistance.'"

Former Kiwanis President Slain

Atlanta, Sept. 29 (AP)—Henry C. Heinz, 63, Atlanta banker and past president of Kiwanis International, was shot to death by a masked prowler at his home last night, and his son-in-law, Dr. Bryant K. Vann, 40, rushing to the Heinz home in answer to a call for help was seriously wounded in a gun battle with police when each apparently mistook the other for the slayer.

Police Capt. L. J. Carroll said radio patrolmen W. M. Miller and M. W. Blackwell reported they answered the alarm shortly after Heinz, vice president of the Citizens and Southern National bank, was slain.

Blackwell went to the rear of the house and Miller entered the front. The former said a man began firing at him from the woods back of the house and he returned the fire. Miller, hearing the shots, raced outside and joined his partner. In the exchange of shots, Dr. Vann, a dentist, was wounded, the officers said.

REDLEGS GAIN 9TH STRAIGHT TO CLINCH 2ND

By JUDSON BAILEY
The Associated Press

Before they shed their uniforms for the winter the St. Louis Cardinals may have reason to be glad that they clinched the National league pennant before the Cincinnati Reds became properly organized.

The Reds steamed into second place yesterday, mathematically clinching it against any belated assault, by sweeping a doubleheader from the Philadelphia Phillies and running their latest winning streak to nine games.

The Reds have had a couple of six game streaks earlier, but it took the late days of September for them to get really hot. They whipped the Phillies 4-3 and 2-0 with two seven-hit pitching performances by Ray Starr and Joe Egan. The only runs the losers made during the entire day came on a homer by Schoolboy Rowe in the first game.

The Reds' clinching of the runner-up spot was assisted by the Brooklyn Dodgers, who dropped a doubleheader to the Pittsburgh Pirates 5-2 and 4-2 and fell into 4th place as the Buccaneers took over third.

Cards Divide
In the meantime the Cardinals split a doubleheader with the Boston Braves and did nothing to improve their prospects for next week's world series with the New York Yankees.

Mort Cooper, the Cardinals' ace pitcher, started the first game and was relieved in the sixth inning by Lefty Harry Breechen with the Braves ahead 4-3. Boston went on to win in the 13th 6-5. Another southpaw, Max Lanier, stopped the Braves in the second game 7-1 on six-hit hurling.

The Chicago Cubs took two games from New York, definitely interring the Giants in the cellar, 3-2 in ten innings and 2-1.

The New York Yankees were beaten 11-3 in their final conflict with the Cleveland Indians.

The Boston Red Sox trounced the Detroit Tigers 6-1 and the Philadelphia Athletics worked out on the St. Louis Browns 8-3 with Rookie Lou Ciola scattering eight hits.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Sept. 29 (AP)—Publicity item from the local racing associations says that Saturday's "Back the Attack" day at Belmont Park will feature a $10,000 special for "the speediest older horses not in training." . . . Sounds like another Whirlaway-Alab duel. . . . But, all typographical errors aside, this is once when the horse race customers really will get their money's worth (providing they don't lose too many bets). . . . They'll get the Futurity and the Jockey club gold cup, which cost the track $25,000 apiece in purse money, a $10,000 race for juveniles like Bee Mac and Alotter that are not eligible for the Futurity and the race mentioned above—and war bonds instead of torn-up mutual tickets for souvenirs.

ALL A LOAN

When Corp. Martin Furgol of Fort Hancock, New Jersey, former Miami Beach golf pro, won the Greater New York Army and Navy tournament at Bethpage Park, Long Island, last week, he wore golf shoes borrowed from Bill Forbes, Fort Hancock YMCA physical director, played with clubs belonging to Maj. Robert F. Spottswood, post special service officer, and with a 1941 ball (unused) borrowed from Frank Robbins of the Fort Hamilton YMCA. He hitch-hiked from Fort Hancock to New York and lugged his own clubs around the course while he shot a nifty 74.

YOU PICK 'EM

(Asking the big question of the "if" men of the World Series pitching staffs).

Yankees—Charley Wensloff, a rookie who doesn't act like one; may get a starting assignment over Bonham or Borowy; not likely to be upset by Cards' base running; makes a habit of pitching complete games. Marius Russo, the Yanks' only southpaw threat; had a sore arm most of the season but you'd never know it now; allowed six hits in his last two starts.

Cardinals—Alpha Brazle: Alpha's a good bet—if his draft board does not declare it off; received his summons last week but hopes to get a crack at the Yanks before donning Uncle Sam's uniform; came up from Sacramento in July and has won seven games since then. Ernie White: Recovered from a sore arm just in time for last year's series and blanked the Yanks with six hits; may repeat, for his frail flipper seems to be about ready for action.

NO SAFETY IN NUMBERS

In a high school grid game the other night, Lakeland, Florida, high was penalized for having only 10 players on the field and two plays later was penalized again for having 12 men. . . . Seems when a sub came in two players who knew when to quit thought they were being relieved and left the field. When the error was discovered two subs entered the game and no one left. . . . Apparently there's no manpower shortage in Lakeland but the coach likely would admit there's some trouble over thought power.

SERVICE DEPT.

Service pigskin chasers in Utah are talking about forming a grid league that would include Fort Douglas, Salt Lake Army Air Base, Kearns Field, Logan Navy-Marines, Bushnell General Hospital and maybe one or two other outfits.

Col. Harry B. Liversedge, commander of Marine Raider units in New Georgia who led the successful assaults against the Japs at Enogai and Bairoko, was a member of the championship Leatherneck football teams in the early '20's and took third place in the shot put at the 1920 Olympics. . . . The Jacksonville, Florida, Navy Air Raiders have three regulars from Oregon U., Bill Borchert, Duke Iverson and Brad Ecklund, and two from Western Reserve, Dominic Sanzotta and Paul Toth. . . . The squadman who probably has the least chance of becoming a regular on a Florida team is a former John Carroll college player—Cadet Robert Yanke.

Pinned Under Truck, Child, 3, Drowns

Meadville, Pa., Sept. 29 (AP)—A water shortage on the farm of her parents was indirectly responsible yesterday for the death by drowning of Judith Kay Bertram, 3, of Teepleville, 15 miles northeast of Meadville.

Judith went with her mother in a truck to nearby Muddy Creek to get water. The truck ploughed into the stream, Judith, thrown out, was pinned in shallow water under a

HUNTERS TO GET 20 SHELLS EACH INSTEAD OF 25

Harrisburg, Sept. 29 (AP)—Pennsylvania small-game hunters without an ammunition reserve can expect to get about 20 of their federal-allocated 25 shotgun shells—if dealer stocks hold out.

"It is a matter of simple arithmetic," said Seth Gordon, executive director of the State Game Commission.

Pennsylvania has been allotted 6,000,000 shotgun shells for the small-game and migratory bird season. About 50 per cent of the estimated 600,000 hunters will not be allowed to make purchases under War Production Board regulations because of reserves on hand.

"That leaves a probable 300,000 eligible to buy shells. If you divide that number into 6,000,000 you get 20 and that's what the average hunter can expect in the way of shotgun shell purchases despite the fact he is entitled to 25."

Cartridges Allotted Too

If hunters are counting on getting non-hunter friends to buy shells under the federal allotment plan they had better dismiss the thought, Gordon warned, because such gifts are illegal.

However, there are no restrictions on hunters who already have big ammunition reserves sharing them with friends.

The rules provide that no individual may purchase more than 25 shotgun shells and must also sign a form saying the proposed purchase will not bring his reserves to more than 50 shells.

Highpower rifle cartridges and .22 calibre shells are also to be sold under the allotment plan which goes into effect October 1. Hunters will be allowed a maximum of 20 of the former and 50 of the latter.

SPORT SHORTS

State College, Pa., Sept. 29 (AP)—Line Coach Joe Bedenk, who scouted North Carolina for Penn State, told the Nittany Lions squad they will be up against "one of the best teams I have ever seen" next Saturday.

That speaks rather well for Georgia Tech, for Bedenk watched Tech drub the Tarheels 20 to 7.

Philadelphia, Sept. 29 (AP)—The University of Pennsylvania football captaincy is on a regional basis now. Wingback Joe Kane will direct the team against Yale Saturday because he's a New Englander, hailing from Tewksbury, Mass.

Joe averaged seven yards in 14 tries against Princeton last week.

Pittsburgh, Sept. 29 (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers have sold Albin (Albie) Glossop, 28-year-old third baseman to the Chicago Cubs at the waiver price, Manager Leo Durocher announced last night. Glossop, who came to Brooklyn from Philadelphia this year, was batting .170.

Meat Packer Put Out Of Business

Pittsburgh, Sept. 29 (AP)—Fred Klein, Turtle Creek meat packer, lost his business for the duration yesterday when the OPA office of administration hearings found him guilty of failing to register with the OPA, selling at higher than ceiling prices and exceeding his slaughter quota.

OPA enforcement attorney Samuel M. Chertoff called it "the worst black market case" in the Pittsburgh district and said Klein killed 1,136,000 pounds of meat from Jan. 1 to August 1 when his quota was only 611,000 pounds.

Pvt. Terry Moore Picks Cards To Win

Caracas, Venezuela, Sept. 20 (By Mail (AP))—Pvt. Terry Moore of the U. S. Army, picks the St. Louis Cardinals to repeat the victory he helped them win in 1942 over the New York Yankees in the coming world series.

If the word "private" before Moore's name causes some confusion, remember that the captain of last year's Cardinals recently joined the Army.

Moore went to Panama after the last world series as a physical education instructor but felt he could aid the war effort more as a soldier and enlisted as a private.

Shortly after his induction he was on several flying missions in the southwest Pacific that took him over Japanese held territory 15 times. He witnessed the sinking of Japanese ships and manned a machine gun in several strafing sorties against shipwrecked Nipponese.

ELMIRA WINS EASTERN CUP

(By The Associated Press)
The Eastern league Governor's cup is in possession of the Elmira club today, for the third time in seven years, after a best-of-seven series which saw several records tumble.

The Pioneers won the series, four games to two, by defeating the pennant-winning Scranton team, 8-1, last night before a near capacity crowd of 8,458 in the Scranton park. A record total of 40,919 persons witnessed the seven games—one, the fifth, was a 17-inning 3-3 tie—to establish a new record for the series which was introduced in 1937.

Last night's spectators added $2,477.23 to a previous $7,352.46, to give the Elmira and Scranton club a record payoff of $9,829.69 each. The winning Elmira players will split $2,628.66 while the Scrantonians will divide $1,314.42.

In defeating the champions last night, Alex Mustakis and his boys pounded out 13 hits, while the Pioneers' manager-pitcher allowed but five scattered singles. Scranton players entered into the spirit of the walkaway by making seven miscues to give the Pioneers six unearned runs.

DERRINGER BAGS 200TH VICTORY

Chicago, Sept. 29 (AP)—When the National league baseball season opened Paul Derringer and Lon Warneke were slated for regular pitching duty with the Chicago Cubs, thus improving their chances of moving into the select circle of hurlers who have won 200 major league games.

Derringer, who started the season with 190 wins, was used as a regular most of the season but his losses outnumbered his triumphs, although he edged toward the 200 figure. Yesterday big Paul, who will be 37 next month, rang the bell. He beat New York—3-2 in 10 innings—for his 10th 1943 success. He has lost 14.

Warneke won't make the grade this season. The Arkansas Hummin' Bird, who needed 12 wins to gain the 200 mark, also beat the Giants yesterday, 2-1. But the victory was only the fourth of the year for Lonnie, who is finishing his 14th year in the National league. But Warneke, who is 34, probably will be around long enough to hang up eight more wins.

Derringer joined Freddie Fitzsimmons, manager of the Phillies, and Carl Hubbell of the Giants, as the only pitchers now in the league who have won 200 games.

The word sybarite comes from the Greek, Sybaris, a city famed around 700 B.C. for its wealth and splendor.

HANOVER TRIBE PACKS WEIGHT

Hanover high school's Nighthawks, undefeated since 1940 and favorites to again win the Southern Pennsylvania football conference championship, will be seeking its sixth successive victory over Gettysburg when the teams clash here Friday night in the first home game of the season for the Maroons.

The visitors last lost to the Maroons 27-0 in 1936 and since that time have won five decisions, no game being played in 1941 due to the infantile paralysis epidemic.

Coach Age Ealy's outfit is again being heavily favored by dopesters to retain its championship gained last year. On the basis of games played it would appear that Hanover's toughest opposition will come from Hershey, Mechanicsburg and possibly Chambersburg with Carlisle, Waynesboro and Gettysburg relegated to outside roles.

Biggest Team

The Maroons will be encountering a terrific weight handicap Friday. Hanover's veteran lines average 182 pounds per man, giving it the biggest line in Nighthawk history. The backfield also packs plenty of poundage and will average 162 pounds.

Against this beef and brawn Coach Melvin Dry will pit a team which averages 154 pounds on the line and but 142 pounds in the backfield.

The Maroon players are conceding their opponents nothing in the coming battle and are hopeful of springing a surprise such as the far-below-average team of 1936 did in winning from a highly favored Hanover team 27-0.

6 Buildings Razed In Oakdale Blaze

Pittsburgh, Sept. 29 (AP)—Fire destroyed six buildings, including the three-story Sturgeon hotel, doing damage estimated by Fire Chief Henry Hadiskoni of Oakdale at $65,000 to $70,000 yesterday in the little Allegheny county community.

Ten families, comprising 35 persons, were made homeless.

Gasper Markovitz, 63, who owned and lived in the hotel, was trapped on the second floor of the building and had to leap from a window to escape the flames. The other five buildings destroyed were residences.

TO DRAFT MEN AT MIDDLETOWN

Harrisburg, Sept. 29 (AP)—Charges by C. A. Gnaul, quartermaster Adjutant of the Pennsylvania Veterans of Foreign Wars, that the Army Air Depot at Middletown is "overstaffed" with deferred young men drew a reply from State Selective Service officials that more than half the draft eligibles there will be called for induction under a replacement program.

Gnaul said yesterday that presence of the young men was "unnecessary" to the depot's "efficient operation," and in a statement added that agreed with the assertion made last week by Rep. Harness (R-Ind.) that more than 60 per cent of the unmarried depot workers had been deferred.

"We have no comment on Mr. Gnaul's statement," said Col. Richard K. Mello, State Selective Service director, in a statement. "However, as a matter of fact, the Middletown Air Depot is operating on a replacement schedule which has been carefully prepared, well considered and which calls for the release of approximately 58 per cent of the draft eligibles in the depot during the first six months of the schedule's operation."

The replacement schedule was approved last May 11.

America's purchasing power increased from 48 billion dollars in 1943 to an estimated 140 billion in 1943.

PUBLIC CONCERN OVER POST-WAR PLAN IN STATE

Harrisburg, Sept. 29 (AP)—If letters pouring into offices of the state post-war planning commission are any indication—and Director Mark S. James thinks they are—Pennsylvanians are vitally interested in how after-peace programs will affect them.

The letters come from persons in every walk of life, James said today, and added:

"There is hardly a day goes by without someone writing to know what we are planning for a certain area of the state. Most of the questions are practical and come from mining, steel and farm centers."

A western Pennsylvania manufacturer wanted to know "What will be done to keep our available manpower employed until we can start working on civilian goods" when peace comes.

A coal mine operator from the anthracite fields asked if "some concrete thinking is being done concerning the hard coal towns."

Await New Commission
"If many coal communities are to be saved from becoming 'ghost towns' new uses for anthracite must be found," the writer asserted. "There must be some assurance given."

By George Matthew Adams

THE SIMPLE, FORGOTTEN THINGS

It takes great trials, tragic emergencies, and privations, to make us come to a full appreciation of the simple things that so enrich our lives. I was reading of some of the experiences of our boys at the front and one of them said that he longed for just a pure drink of water—the kind that he used to get "back home."

A big New York banker lost nearly all that he had. Long accustomed to luxury and all that money could buy, he suddenly faced the fact that he must begin all over again. With the little that remained of his great fortune, he bought a small home in the country, and there he raised chickens and started a little garden.

Once a poor boy, he began to gain the joy of former years, when the simple things gave him so much pleasure, and to a friend he confided that he was finally happier than he had ever been, for he had learned the value and beauty that clustered about the simple forgotten things.

This tragic war has brought to many of us the realization that in the simple, forgotten thing, rested much of our happiness. And so we have gone back to many of them, to re-discover our loves, as well as to re-discover ourselves.

The simple homes that many of our boys will come back to, after this war, will seem like a paradise to them, after all their experiences abroad. It won't be the same world that they left. To sleep in the old home bed will be luxury to them!
All values will take upon new color and will be newly appraised. The home cooked meal will seem like an eternal Thanksgiving feast!

In our everyday lives we forget the simple, forgotten things around with brought to us so much pleasure and happiness in days gone by. To return to them would enrich us all, if only for a brief spell. It refreshes the spirit to return to the town where one was born, to walk over the paths once trod, and to live again the happy days of youth.

We cannot carry too many of the simple forgotten things around with us in our hearts. There very memory enriches us. To safe-keep them is to treasure the precious pearls of experience, which enliven, and decorate our very thoughts.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "No" People.

EXPECT ITALY TO ATTEMPT TO JOIN AS ALLIES

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(Associated Press War Analyst)
Premier Badoglio's seeming desire to bring his Italian government in on the side of the United Nations as an ally is causing some resentment among American and British soldiers as well as on the part of officers of the AMG (Allied Military Government of occupied territories).

"It wouldn't be surprising," reports Edward Kennedy, Associated Press war correspondent in Italy,
"if Premier Badoglio issued a declaration of war on Germany as a means of getting into the winning camp and salvaging something in the post-war settlement."

"The idea of accepting the Italians as 'allies' however, is repugnant to many of the troops, who thought they had defeated the Italians once and for all and now find it strange to have Italians in charge of civil administration here and issuing decrees which indirectly affect the Allied forces. Officers of the AMG who came here to administer the country have found their organization side-tracked while Italians control the civil power, and they are resentful of the situation."

Italians Failed as Guards Well, it's easy to understand that feeling. Maybe, too, it's a good thing this has cropped up now, because we are going to have other defeated countries to deal with before long and it's important that we adjust our minds to the common-sense way of handling these situations. Take the case of Italy:

The Allied objectives have called for unconditional surrender, wiping out of Fascism, punishment of Mussolini and his gang, disarmament, depriving Italy of her ill-got empire and returning its component parts to rightful sovereignty, military occupation of Italy and AMG administration until such time as the people can choose a legitimate government of their own. We swore to do all this with firmness, and there's no indication we've weakened.

British Premier Churchill last week gave us a significant glimpse of Allied determination to rid the world of gangsterism when he told with grim brevity how it happened that Nazi parachutists were able to rescue Mussolini. The Italian Car-abinieri who were guarding the ex-dictator failed to carry out their orders to shoot him if any delivery were attempted. That's to say, the Duce was to be executed on the spot if there was danger of his escaping Allied justice.

Won't Be Tea and Cakes
We shall get him again, just as we shall get Hitler and Tojo—dead or alive—and all their henchmen.
Then punishment will be exacted,
and it won't be tea and cakes.
What we have to remember about Italy, however, before we get indignant over the trend of affairs, is that while the government capitulated, this didn't end the war on the peninsula by a long shot. We still have to wrest the country from the Germans.

In these circumstances one would expect the occupied portions to continue under military rule, thereby perhaps delaying the establishment of AMG. It isn't surprising either that the Allies are encouraging the Italians to fight the Germans. That doesn't mean the Italians are being invited to become our Allies; they're being invited to help themselves.
They still must take their punishment.

Got To Be Tough
However, when we have dealt with Mussolini—imprisoned him, hanged him, or compelled him to listen continually to phonograph records of his own bombastic speeches, and when we have carried out the other announced Allied aims, how much further would the average American want to go in the way of retribution? Not a great way, I'll gamble.
The Allied leaders have made it clear that there's no intention of crushing the Italian people but, on the contrary, of helping them get a fresh start. It strikes me as highly important that this be emphasized, and certainly that we don't allow ourselves to be sent off on some emotional tangent.

We've got to be tough, but we don't have to try to be tougher than we are by nature. Other Axis nations are watching Italy. No country will surrender if it believes it's going to be snatched, as the people of Germany, for example, are being told by Hitler and Goebbels. Anyway, all arguments notwithstanding, we'll probably be smart to let the very capable General Heisen-hower have a fling at running his own job.

Crucifix Turns Toward Honor Roll

Parishioners of St. Rocco's Catholic Church at Glen Cove, N. Y., kneel before a crucifix, supposedly immovable, which has turned and inclined slightly toward an honor roll of men in the service. Calling this "a phenomenal thing," the Rev. Dante del Fiorentello, pastor, said "it might have been caused by the weather warping the woods."

who escaped from a hospital ship after it was bombed by a German plane outside this gulf on September 13 owe their lives to their own coolness and the bravery of British sailors.

The first bomb hit near the ship about 5 a. m. The second was a direct hit. "It blew the doors off the hinges, shattered the walls, broke mirrors," said Lt. Blanche Sigman, of Cambridge, Ohio. "By some miracle, none of the American girls was killed, although some British doctors and nurses died."

Lt. Carrie Sheetz, of Millersburg, Pa., was trapped in her room when the door jammed. She tried for some time to open it, but it would not budge. "I think God opened it," she said.

Lieutenant Sheetz is a former Pennsylvania state health nurse and the wife of a warrant officer in the Navy. She formerly was stationed at an Army post in Kentucky.

Borrowed Sailors' Pants
The girls climbed into lifeboats, only to find that some of them had been damaged by the bombs. There were 76 in one boat. The girls had to bail out water with helmets to keep afloat.

"Some of the girls would start down the ladders nude and sailors would pull them back and give them their pants," said Lieutenant Sigman.

The nurses were taken aboard an other hospital ship, which took them to North Africa for rest and treatment.

"Then we were afraid we wouldn't get back to Italy," Lieutenant Sheetz said. "we were happy to be back with our outfit and to find that they missed us."

America will need 350,000 nurses in 1944, or 100,000 more than are now available.

Battle Reopens
On Food Subsidies

Washington, Sept. 29 (AP)—Congress and the administration broke off a three-months armistice on food subsidies today with the farm bloc rallying behind a new drive to block use of government money for direct price reductions.

Legislators from farm states lost the first round of the scrap last spring after driving through a measure forbidding subsidies. President Roosevelt vetoed it.

The controversy was renewed as the House Banking Committee called in War Food Administrator Marvin Jones and J. B. Hutson, head of the Commodity Credit Corporation for an "if-why-how" answer on extension of CCC activities after the end of the year.

Unless extended by Congress, the CCC will die on January 1. There is little doubt on Capitol Hill that the extension will be granted, the chief discussion centers around the terms.

TRIBAL CHIEF DECIDES YANKS MAY HOLD ISLE

Wanawana, Island, Sept. 17 (Delayed) (AP)—The chief of all the Munda tribes—they once were among the world's most ferocious warriors—has decided the Americans can keep Munda and all of New Georgia island, from now on, if they want it.

"Too many battles there," explained the chief, 35-year-old black-skinned John Bitumbuli.

"The natives are frightened by the noise of airplanes and bombs and shooting. We have moved here to a village we will call Maundu. It is beautiful here, and quiet. We will never go back to Munda."

"I went to Munda the other day, just to see," he continued. "All the beautiful trees were knocked down. There were great holes everywhere from shells and bombs. Hundreds of airplanes with the American star on them were taking off from a field on the spot where I was born."

"The Americans took me for a ride in a jeep—all around. I saw everything. It was terrible. I do not know whether I ever want to see Munda again."

"Japs Don't Smell Good"

"Years ago, when my father was chief," he continued, "the natives thought Munda was too tame. They went in canoes to Choiseul and Kolombangara and other islands and fought with the natives of those islands. Then the British came, and everything was the same for many years. Nothing ever happened."

"Then the Japanese came—only last year. Then the Americans came, because the Japanese do not smell good and the natives have good noses. The Americans are good to us. But Munda is changed too much."

"We will stay on Wanawana."

FDR SPEAKS OF "OFFICIAL LEAKS"

Washington, Sept. 29 (AP)—President Roosevelt left the gate swinging wide today for Gen. George C. Marshall, Army chief of staff, to move to any new or enlarged command over Allied armies.

The Chief Executive made no effort at a news conference yesterday to deny reports that Marshall had been picked for world command of all Anglo-American forces. In fact, he admitted there has been what he called some leaks in prominent places.

Probably 10 per cent of the top officials in Washington leak badly, Mr. Roosevelt declared, although the other 90 per cent are, as he put it, good eggs.

The Chief Executive said there was no news now on Marshall's status, but he explained that when he said there was no news on a subject at this time that might mean there would be news two weeks from now, or a month or 10 months from now. Or it might mean, he said, that no decision had been made.

New Commander At Indiantown

Indiantown Gap, Pa., Sept. 29 (AP)—The new commanding officer at the big Army post here will be Col. Albert O. King, former executive officer and one-time Pennsylvania National Guard officer.

Colonel King succeeded Col. Carl C. Stokely, who takes over command of the Fort Meade, Maryland, Army camp on Friday.

A native of Gallatin, Pa., Colonel King is now 58. In civilian life, he was chief inspector at Altoona for the Pennsylvania railroad. Colonel King is a veteran of World War I.

Within 12 years, it is estimated that hevea trees will produce from 1200 to 1,900 pounds of crude rubber an acre.

Would Increase Family Allowance For Men In Service

Washington, Sept. 29 (AP)—With a general draft of fathers due to start Friday, the House Military committee today opened hearings on legislation to boost family allowances of enlisted men.

Called to testify was Major General Miller G. White, assistant chief of staff in charge of Army personnel, who was expected by committee members to endorse the principle of legislation which would increase substantially the payments to dependent wives and children, without, however, effecting any marked increase in the allowance for a wife only.

Passed by the Senate on July 8, the measure would leave unchanged the present total payment of $50 to a dependent wife of an enlisted man but would boost from $62 to $68 the allowance for a wife and one child, with an increase from $10 to $11 for each additional child. None of the increased payments would be taken from the service man's contribution, which would remain at $22 monthly for class one dependents, or wives and children.

Cardinal Dougherty's Home Under Guard

Philadelphia, Sept. 29 (AP)—Police guards were placed around the home of Dennis Cardinal Dougherty, archbishop of the Roman Catholic Archdiocese of Philadelphia, last night, after a madman who had threatened him several times escaped from Norristown, Pa., State hospital.

Sergt. Charles Beckman of the Detective Bureau said the fugitive, John Havidich, visited the Cardinal's home several times in 1933 and demanded $50,000, and later wrote him a letter containing a death threat. Havidich was captured on the grounds of the Cardinal's home and committed to the Norristown institution.

In 1935 he escaped and appeared at the Catholic seminary of St. Charles Borromeo, Overbrook, Pa., where he demanded $10,000. Priests kept him in conversation until police arrived.

In recent months Havidich had been on a trusty status in the State hospital.

Congressman May Quit For New Post

Harrisburg, Sept. 29 (AP)—Reported plans of Rep. James P. McGranery, Philadelphia Democrat, to resign his seat in Congress next Wednesday, would leave the congressional post open until 1944.

McGranery's intention to take a position as assistant to U. S. Attorney General Francis Biddle was disclosed last night by Philadelphia newspapers, which said McGranery's new appointment would not be submitted until next week.

His congressional seat can not be filled at a special election in conjunction with the November 2, 1943, general election unless Governor Martin receives official notice of his resignation by October 2 and issues a writ for a special election by that date.

Waynesboro Faces Shortage Of Water

Waynesboro, Pa., Sept. 29 (AP)—Residents of this Franklin county community of 10,000 population gave up lawn sprinkling and automobile washing today in an attempt to conserve water during one of the most stringent shortages the town has ever experienced.

Burgess R. B. Brown and Borough Manager A. Stover Fitz made a joint appeal to residents to reduce the average daily consumption of 2,300,000 gallons as much as possible. They pointed out the borough's reservoirs now have only 2,500,000 gallons and that mountain streams are providing enough water to supply the town from day to day. The officials blamed the extended drought for the present water shortage.

DECLARE AXIS STRONGER THAN AT WAR'S START

Washington, Sept. 29 (AP)—Despite recent setbacks the military might of both Germany and Japan is greater today than when they set out to conquer the world.

That's the consensus voiced by United States military leaders at a conference of industrial, labor and newspaper executives called by the War department to hear a frank report on what is happening and what may be expected.

As the conference reconvened Tuesday for an outline of the staggering problems of supplying Allied forces around the world, Robert P. Patterson, Under Secretary of War, declared there was "no doubt that our recent victories have failed to affect in any vital degree the strength of the enemy."

Lt. Gen. Joseph T. McNarney, deputy chief of staff, said that while Germany has abandoned expectation of victory, she still is a formidable enemy.

No Early Collapse

Just how formidable was made clear by Maj. Gen. George V. Strong, Army Intelligence chief, who told Monday's session that the German army and air force are stronger now than when Poland was attacked four years ago, and that Germany's employment in war industries has risen in the same period from 23,000,000 to 35,000,000.

Strong rejected any talk of an early German collapse, and presented a similar report on Japan—tremendous resources which mean growing strength as long as Japan controls East Asia, excellent morale, an improving air force, and a reservoir of 4,000,000 potential fighting men.

McNarney said the enemy has passed from the offensive to the strategic defensive, but it was made abundantly clear that Allied military leaders expect the next 12 months to produce fighting that will dwarf anything yet experienced.

Says OES Will Rule On Milk Case

Harrisburg, Sept. 29 (AP)—John M. McKee, chairman of the state Milk Control Commission, predicted yesterday that price advances proposed by his agency would eventually go to the U. S. Office of Economic Stabilization for final approval or rejection.

In New York, regional OPA officials have indicated the planned boosts of two and three cents a quart over large sections of the state would not be approved.

"As you go up the line of federal agencies now studying the orders," McKee said, "OPA is responsible for ceiling prices, the war food administration is interested in maintaining production and the Office of Economic Stabilization will have to decide whether production will be maintained by increasing prices or by other means."

PUC Complaints Show Decrease

Harrisburg, Sept. 29 (AP)—War-broom wages plus a feeling that sacrifices have to be made in these emergency days are credited with cutting complaints on rates and services to the Public Utility Commission more than 36 per cent.

Chairman John Siggins, Jr., today reported that in the first six months of 1941—before the United States went to war—complaints filed with the commission totalled 1,414, compared to 899 in the first half of this year, a reduction of 515 or 36.4 per cent.

"Patriotism is responsible for a big part of the sag in the complaints called to the attention of the Public Utility Commission," declared Siggins.

To Try Editor On Libel Charge

Princess Anne, Md., Sept. 29 (AP)—Indicted by a grand jury and held under $500 bail, Rives Skinner Matthews, editor and publisher of the weekly Somerset News, awaits trial next week on a charge of criminal libel arising from stories published in his paper concerning Maryland Comptroller J. Millard Tawes.

The grand jury, in handing down the indictment yesterday, said Matthews had "intended to vilify and defame" Tawes in articles published in the newspaper last June in connection with Matthews' accusations that Tawes had misused gasoline ration coupons.

The indictment held the stories contained "scandalous, wicked, malicious, mischievous and defamatory libel" and quoted from and interpreted two of them.

GETS DIPLOMATIC POST

Washington, Sept. 29 (AP)—The United States representative on the Mediterranean commission will be Edwin C. Wilson, 50-year-old career man in the diplomatic service and since February, 1941, this Government's ambassador to Panama. His appointment was announced late yesterday by President Roosevelt.

Draft Dodger Faces Prison

Philadelphia, Sept. 29 (AP)—Philip F. Mancuso, 26, who delayed his induction into the Army for six months by means of litigation, had his choice today between serving a five-year prison sentence or asking permission to join the armed forces.

A jury of six men and six women found him guilty of violating the Selective Service act yesterday, and Judge Harry E. Kalodner sentenced him in U. S. District Court to the maximum term for such violations. He said the sentence would be revoked, however, if Mancuso applied for entrance into the Army before a new court term begins on November 1.

In asking the maximum sentence U. S. Attorney Gerald A. Gleason said, "This defendant used every means, legal and illegal, to evade the Selective Service act."

Mancuso's counsel asked for a stay of judgment or a new trial stating his client had acted on the attorney's interpretation of the law. Both requests were refused.

The most troublesome hay-fever period lasts from the middle of August until the first killing frosts.
